

Women's health through the eyes of Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM)

First Bai Feng Wan with Collagen - women's wellness and beauty in a capsule

Written by Charlene Wong

SINCE the day of womanhood, women around the world are in a continuous pursuit of optimum health and well-being. At the same time, they share common health concerns and gynaecological symptoms prior or during their menstruation, with the incidence being highest in younger women, from teenagers to women in their thirties.

MediaCorp Artiste, Xiang Yun, has learnt about the importance of maintaining quality women's wellness since young. She reveals, "My mother introduces Bai Feng Wan to me as a supplement effective in relieving menstrual discomfort and for overall well-being."

Xiang Yun recommends Bai Feng Wan for womanhood.

Zheng Yu Ting on her preferred choice in achieving women's health.

Zheng Yu Ting uses Bai Feng Wan with Collagen to relieve her menstrual discomfort and for better skin's health.

23 years old Zheng Yu Ting who had been suffering from poor health and weak immunity is also concerned about her feminine well-being and places top priority in achieving optimal health. She discloses that she would refuse to take pain killers in relieving her menstruation symptoms and instead, believes in solving the roots of her health problems. It is therefore important to her that the supplement she takes regularly comes from an important source. "After taking Ren Xin Tang Bai Feng Wan with Collagen, I begin to experience the improvements in my health and gynaecological well-being."

Achieving women's wellness with Bai Feng Wan
TCM has long been considered an alternative to enhance women's health and well-being. Bai Feng Wan, for example, has been used for generations as a natural dietary supplement to complement women's health and in addressing underlying issues of gynaecological symptoms on a long-term basis. The Chinese herbal supplement embraces the benefits of age-old prescribed formula and is believed to promote optimum health for the hectic lifestyles of today's women.

Among the many ingredients found in Bai Feng Wan are those traditional Chinese herbs known for their beneficial effects, especially for women. Ren Xin Tang Bai Feng Wan with Collagen for example, is formulated with 17 types of Chinese herbs such as Dang Gui, Ginseng, Dan Shen and Chuan Xiong using traditional Chinese methodology to provide nourishing values that have been passed down from generations to enhance women's well-being. Regular consumption relieves symptoms and discomforts associated with menstruation and supports immunity.
